Complaint Information

The Office of the Commissioner of Insurance (OCI) defines a complaint as “a written communication received by the Commissioner’s Office that indicates dissatisfaction with an insurance company or agent.” There are four categories of contacts: direct response, referrals, requests for information and further investigation complaints. Only the further investigation complaints are used to calculate the ratios used in this report. Referrals involve complaints that are regulated by another jurisdiction such as the federal government. Requests for information are general questions about insurance that do not refer to a specific company or agent. Direct response complaints involve questions that OCI can answer directly without contacting the insurer such as whether a company is licensed or a rate has been filed. Listed below is a summary of the types of complaints filed in 2010.

Direct response	11

Complaint Summaries

The Complaint Summaries are prepared annually by OCI to provide more information to consumers. The lists include companies with 5 or more complaints received in 2010 in relation to the premiums the company wrote in Wisconsin in 2009. Only companies with an above-average ratio of complaints per $100,000 of premium volume appear on the list. Complaints against agents are assigned to the company that the agent represents.

After determining that an insurance product is suitable for their needs, consumers should consider the following items before selecting an insurer:

- Cost;
- The company’s reputation for claims payment and customer service; and
- The competence of agents.

The number of complaints about a company is a limited, although useful, measuring device in the insurance selection process.

The number of complaints does not reflect the office's final determination on whether there has been a violation of the law. However, even when complaints do not involve violations of law, they may indicate something about company communications with policyholders, deficiencies in policy design (i.e., "too much fine print"), or agent training. The office receives many complaints that involve factual disputes where, in the absence of a court determination, definitive judgments on the factual dispute and violations of law cannot be made.

Consumers having problems with their insurance should first contact the agent and/or company involved. If they are unable to settle the problem at that level, they are encouraged to contact the Insurance Commissioner's Office.
